

To allow Sinclair to force its stations to broadcast "Stolen Honor" would be a break with the tradition of ensuring balanced coverage of political issues. I think this will come back to haunt you if you allow it to happen. It would alter the rules of engagement, and I hope you realize that this is not lost on large portions of the American Public.